FOUR E-RAU STUDENTS LOST IN AIR TRAGEDY

By A.C. Bowman
AVION Staff Writer

We lost four of our student body members and friends last Sunday night in an air crash near Henderson, North Carolina.

The four, Steven A. Doerner, Richard W. Scilleppi, Robert J. Valsecchi, and Lawrence J. Vital, were returning to the University from their homes in the Northeast following the Thanksgiving holidays.

Their rented Cessna 210 on an IFR flight plan, disappeared from air traffic control radar scopes at about 6:00pm in bad weather. The wreckage and victims were found late Monday morning near the Oxford/Henderson airport by Air Force and civil emergency units. All students, faculty and friends of the deceased are invited to a memorial service to be held in the University Center at 10:00 on Thursday, 2 December.

CO-OP STUDENT RECOGNIZED

E-RAU student John Ballard received recognition for outstanding performance while working at the NASA-Langley Research Center in Hampton, VA.

John is in the Cooperative Education Program here at Embry-Riddle. He served with NASA-Langley for the Fall and Spring trimesters of 1975, and he was recognized for his performance during the 1976 spring trimester. John will work for NASA-Langley for two more trimesters (Summer & Fall '77).

In a letter of recognition, John Ballard was cited for being a conscientious worker and for voluntarily performing work on his own time in order to complete a given job.

John Ballard is from Lititz, PA and is enrolled in E-RAU's engineering course. John is due to graduate in the spring of 1978.

John's performance in the Co-op program shows the type of professional attitude needed in order to succeed through school and in the business environment.

TWO LOCAL STUDENTS AMONG 11 NAMED TO "WHO'S WHO"

Two Daytona Beach area youths are among 34 Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University (E-RAU) students selected for inclusion in a listing of the nation's outstanding college undergraduates.

John Baker and Michael Raymond were named along with E-RAU students from throughout the country for recognition in the 1977 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities & Colleges." Through its biographical sketches of superlative students, the publication helps promote the undergraduates and increase their opportunities for graduate school admission, scholarships, grants and employment.

Baker, 22, is the son

JOHN BAKER

of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Baker, 2056 S. Halifax Drive, Daytona Beach.

He is a senior in Embry-Riddle's Aeronautical Studies program, an honor student and on the dean's list. To be designated an honor student, an E-RAU undergraduate must maintain a trimester scholastic average of at least 3.20 on the 4.0 grading scale. Dean's list candidates must record an average grade of 3.50 or better.

Baker's father owns Brooke Custom Cleaners in Daytona Beach and is president of International Jet Transport Corp. A marine racing enthusiast, he participates in hydroplane events here and across the country.

Raymond, 21, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin T. Raymond, 793 Riverside Drive, Ormond Beach. He is a senior in E-RAU's aeronautical engineering program and has appeared on the university's dean's list for six consecutive trimesters. His father is an aircraft engine instructor at Embry-Riddle.

Both Baker and Raymond are Seabreeze High School alumni. Baker was graduated from there in 1972 and Raymond a year later.

Students appearing in the collegiate "Who's Who" are selected for their leadership abilities, personality traits and extracurricular accomplishments as well as high scholastic standing.

NOTICES

TO: All Faculty
FROM: Dean of Registration and Records

Please announce to all your classes the following:

ALL STUDENTS desiring to register for an academic flight course along with his/her other academic courses must secure a flight launch time assignment (reservation), prior to working out the rest of his/her schedule with his/her academic advisor. Every effort will be made at Registration in January to finalize the assigned (reserved) launch time, through the assignment of an appropriate section number.

Changes to the assigned (reserved) launch time will only be made if we run out of aircraft or instructors for a particular launch time. Students who do not secure a flight launch time assignment (reservation) may not be able to fly at their preferred time. Faculty Advisors have been instructed not to help the student with the rest of his schedule, if he has not secured an assigned launch time for his flight course. Flight Launch Time Assignments will be made at the Flight Division on November 29, 30, December 1, 2, & 3 ONLY.

WE NEED YOUR IDEAS! How should the money from the Hangar Sale be spent? It should benefit the students in some way. If you have a suggestion, do one of these:

- Put a note in the U.C. suggestion box
- Contact the SGA Office
- Contact Elaine Agget in University Relations

INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS
All international students on F-1 or J-1 visas, planning to leave the country during the Christmas vacation, must secure an I-20 form prior to departure. Bring your I-94 card to Connie Loughrey in the International Students Office during the week of December 6 - 10 to receive your I-20.

Those students on J-1 visas leaving the country should be sure to have the pink copy of the DSP-66 in their possession. These documents will be necessary for re-entry into the United States.

Private doctors and hospitals, in the area, requested that students state, at the time of treatment, if they have Student Insurance. This will assist you in having your Insurance claim processed properly and quickly.

If you do not have EMBRY-RIDDLE INSURANCE, proof of other insurance will need to be shown at registration.

Interested in KUNG FU lessons? Contact the Student Activities Office.

OPINIONS

THE OPINIONS EXPRESSED IN THIS PAPER ARE NOT NECESSARILY THOSE OF THE UNIVERSITY OR ALL MEMBERS OF THE STUDENT BODY. LETTERS APPEARING IN THE AVION DO NOT NECESSARILY REFLECT THE OPINIONS OF THIS NEWSPAPER OR ITS STAFF. ALL LETTERS SUBMITTED WILL BE PRINTED PROVIDED THEY ARE NOT LEWD, OBSCENE, OR LIBELOUS, AT THE DISCRETION OF THE EDITOR, AND ARE ACCOMPANIED BY THE SIGNATURE OF THE WRITER. NAMES WILL BE WITHHELD FROM PRINT IF REQUESTED.

EDITORIAL

Again, I received an unsigned letter to the Editor, and again, I can't print it. However, the letter did mention some interesting points that I feel should be mentioned.

First, a rumor about Oronshire no longer offering contracts to Riddle students. Check with Housing.

Pre-registration not offered in January. Why? Call Registrar.

Finals on a Sunday next term? That's not cool, and no doubt will be changed. Call Registrar.

I am this to the author of the letter: so far you are the only person I have received negative feedback from concerning any of my staff. It's proud and appreciative of them all. Sounds like a personal problem.

For the answers to your other complaints, either write me a signed letter, or write to feedback.

By the time this comes off the press, the ceremony for the four students who were killed last Sunday, will be over. I hope everyone who was a friend of theirs will have paid their respects by attending.

CAREER PLANNING AND STUDENT PLACEMENT

By Skip Randle

"FREE FOR THE ASKING"

"Where do I go to find out about the job market?" This was the first question that entered my mind as I started my college career. The whole problem seemed to contain more questions than I could possibly handle. How do I go about setting up a resume? What companies will I be prepared to work for? How do I get an interview? etc. etc.

These are but a few questions that remained on my mind until I started working for the Career Planning and Placement Center. It was as if the whole problem of job hunting had been solved. The Placement Center, as I found out, is the starting point. This office will do all it can to start any student on his or her way to finding a job. The process begins by taking the time to stop in and become aware of the facilities and services offered to students and alumni. The Placement Center will assist the student in developing and typing a resume. Interviews can be scheduled with prospective employers. Current job opportunities are kept on file and a reference library is available for research of companies which interest you. All the services are free for the asking.

I was extremely relieved to find out such a place existed and that it is dedicated to finding me a job.

Looking at the service from a student's point of view, I am amazed at the opportunities for assistance and the number of students who do not take advantage of these services.

It is here for the asking, and I for one am glad to use anything that will make the job search easier.

ONTOLOGY

By Ken Jagodzinski

There are only two more issues of the AVION left to be printed this semester. As you may already know, this semester is also my last semester - since I am graduating this month. In this column I wish to offer the best of luck to the graduating seniors and the rest of the student body, faculty and most of all to the AVION staff.

I hope that my column has brought many things worth entertaining throughout the two years it has been presented. I have enjoyed presenting Ontology to you. I want to give special thanks to those who found time to send the many complimentary and constructive letters. I appreciated them all!

With these thoughts, I formally close my column and again - have a very merry Christmas and the happiest new year!

FEEDBACK

FEEDBACK is a weekly feature of the AVION, based on the questions, comments and complaints from the Suggestion Box in the University Center reception area. We used to say that not all questions could be answered in this space. This week this is all we found in the Suggestion Box. All suggestions are considered, and passed on. This is a good way to let your feelings be known without going way out of your way -- please use it!!

COMMENT:

It seems strange to me that the nurses, Dean Ledewitz, and Mr. Rojeter, who have never even solved, have the right to ground a student for safety reasons. It's OK for them to say you can't fly solo cause the regs say you can't. But how can they say you can't even fly dual because your medical disability makes you a hazard in the plane? They don't know what goes on in an aircraft so how do they know what is safe? I think the Guidance Counseling or Medical Department in the "only totally aviation oriented University in the world" should have an experienced pilot, these decisions can be respected.

RESPONSE:

All medical groundings are coordinated through Dr. Herron, the University physician. He is an Aviation Medical Examiner designated by the FAA and also a pilot. --Dr. Ledewitz

COMMENT:

Should the person who is in charge of the Bus Schedule place a time sheet somewhere for all students to see and change it so often.

RESPONSE:

The Bus Schedule is posted on the switchboard area (University Center)

COMMENT:

There I was listening "AM, Room 202 in the middle of a Psychology of Management lecture, when all of a sudden, we were being invaded. Yes, invaded! Not by any human military force but by the common Florida ANT. Yes, ants. Hundreds, thousands, million. ...Actually there were just a few scouts, but the massive colonies were on about lingering outside the building for the attack.

Please call Orkin or Walker and have the classrooms exterminated. --A member of the Anti-Ant Club

RESPONSE:

The University subscribes to a monthly spray service and if there are problems, the exterminators will come on call. Did you try stepping on them?

--Sandy Lantz

PRESIDENT'S CORNER

By John O'Neal

I hope everyone had a good holiday. We will be having the Hangar Sale this Saturday and Sunday so come on out and buy something. I would like to say that the S.G.A. does NOT have first selection on the goods for sale. Until next week....

V-P THOUGHTS

By Dave Fraser

I trust everyone had a great Thanksgiving and for those who went home, had a safe trip. Since there wasn't an Avion last week I'll comment on the Dinner-Dance. I thought it was set up exceptionally well and the food was great. Too bad we didn't get a full house, because it was worth $2.75. Some people complained about the amount of turkey we got, but if they went back for seconds and even thirds like I did they wouldn't complain. After I finished my meal, I was so full I could barely move and after I finished my drinks I couldn't move at all. Don't forget the 'World's Largest Hangar Sale' over at the new Maintenance Tech hangar this weekend. There will be some great bargains in used boats, bicycles, refrigerators, tools, etc. The board of Visitors have put a lot of work into this, and the proceeds will be going to the students, so come on out and support it. Who knows...you might pick up a free prize or a good bargain!

QUESTION:

Why is the dormitory linen fee mandatory?

Lately, this service has not been up to par, with the sheets and towels being badly stained and sometimes just plain dirty. Also, in the three trimesters that I've lived in the dorms, the sheets have always been too short for the beds.

Would it be possible to make this service optional?

--James B. Terrell

ANSWER:

The fee is mandatory basically because most people want and/or need the linen. Administrative costs (i.e. the number of sheets, etc. varied would be a lot more than the $3./month/person than it is now. The fee is waived if a student has an allergy that does not allow him to use the linen. The Director of Housing will look into methods of getting cleaner linens but said he had never had any other complaints about sheets being too short.

VOLUME 24 ISSUE 11

Published weekly throughout the academic year and bi-weekly throughout the summer and distributed by THE AVION, Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University, Daytona Beach Regional Airport, Daytona Beach, FLA. 32114 Phone 232-5981, ext. 313. Transmitter authorization - 83.21

(CPS) Money is again flowing from student wallets as they return to their campuses facing tuition and other fee hikes. Some schools, in fact have already announced additional hikes planned for next year, while students this year are still shelling out more money than ever. But student opposition is scattered across the nation. Soaring tuition is met with moods ranging from submission to frustration.

Tuition rose in New Jersey an average of $159 per student over last year. Undergraduate students of the State University of New York (SUNY) are paying up to $200 more, while costs for graduates went up an extra $100. The University of New Hampshire upped tuition by $100 for residents and $390 for non-residents. Students at the University of Massachusetts will see a total increase of $225 spread over two and a half years. And so it goes for students across the country.

Student opposition to various tuition and fee hikes has fallen off at the start of this academic year. A contrast to last spring, which saw two state capitols stormed, a chancellor pelted with eggs and buildings taken over in protest of hikes. Many student groups are now attempting to act as legal collective bargaining agents. Other groups are lobbying legislators and registering people to vote against those who would raise their fees.

Although a tuition increase has gone through in New Jersey, the New Jersey Student Association (NJSA) is taking credit for keeping the hike to a minimum. The president of NJSA, Frank Robinson, felt that actions taken last spring, such as direct legislative lobbying, massive letter campaigns and demonstrations kept the increase $100 less than originally proposed. Efforts in other state schools have not seemed as successful.

The end to spiraling education costs does not seem in sight. Students returning to school are learning of increases planned for next year, and student leaders find their hands tied by apathy. Kansas residents face a $50 increase next fall, and non-residents $150. At Iowa State University, where a 10 percent tuition increase is proposed for next year, the student president saw the lack of student concern as "a sign of the times."

A tentative statewide plan proposed by the New York Board of Regents may increase state university students' tuition $1000, as outlined to study by the Student Association of State Universities. Lobbying efforts and demonstrations by students of the City University of New York could not prevent the imposition of tuition fees for the first time in 120 years.

Student lobbyists in California say they'll be doing a lot of screaming, protesting a proposed across the board 10 percent fee increase due in October for next year. There and at other schools students are urging their respective state legislatures to help keep hikes down.

Increased apathy, feelings that there isn't much that can be done, and being ingrained with the over-present spectre of inflation may be leading students to continually expect hikes. An Iowa State student leader said, "it may be a sign of the times... it's sad and scary."

SIGN UP NOW - SAVE A KID

Do you have 3 hours a week that you can spare? If you do, then you may be able to save a kid. The Office of Youth Services has a volunteer program to pair a volunteer with a teenager who is having trouble adjusting to society's social norm. The volunteers work with these young people by becoming a friend, companion, listener, role model and giving some stabilizing influence to help turn these teenagers into useful citizens of tomorrow. Your help is needed! You can volunteer by calling 252-9646 or by coming to 2200 West Volusia. Orientation sessions for new volunteers are held on the second Tuesday and fourth Wednesday of each month at 7:00 pm at the Youth Services Office. Imogene M. McConkey is the Volunteer Coordinator, and she will be happy to further explain the program and other volunteer jobs which are available. Would you like to save a kid AND earn 3 hours of credit at the same time? If so, sign up for SS 398 Applied Social Psychology. Through this course your volunteer work will earn you credit and it will be a very rewarding experience. Mr. Ken Deissler is the professor so contact him.

EMBRY-RIDDLE

SC's

By Mark Scholli

We held our first meeting Friday, November 19 and besides the case of beer consumed, we welcomed new members Bob, Chuck, Skip, Shawn, Bill, Steve, and Marlehead into the club. We are now 19 strong and encourage anyone interested in intramural sports, partying and good times to check us out. Get in touch with Babs in E-RAU box 4371 for further information.

Now listen up cause this next item is big! On Wednesday, December 8th, in the Riddle parking lot, the SC's are sponsoring a car smash for "Toys for Tots". For 25c a hit, you can take out your frustrations on an honest to goodness automobile. Names of faculty and administration will be emblazoned on the car for everyone to take a wack at. We are hoping everyone will put out a few quarters for a good cause and a good time.

Our meetings are Tuesday nights at 8:00 in the Common Purpose Room. One project we have going is to get the intramural softball season started in January instead of March. If you agree with this, drop us a line in Box 4371. Join the newest action club on campus - all you have to lose are your dull weekends.

Embry-Riddle will be the host of the Collegiate Nationals this year. This event will be held out at the Deland jump zone during the end of the month.

The members of the four-man team that will represent Embry-Riddle at this meet were up in Jacksonville this past weekend practicing, while the Deland DC-3 was at Zephyrhills.

Speaking of Z-hills, for the past ten days Zephyrhills has played host to over two thousand skydivers who were attending the Annual Z-hills Turkey meet. The skydiving was constant and fantastic to watch during the frequent breaks in the bad weather which plagued the meet. Everyone seemed to be having a great time jumping and partying with friends.

The parachute club will hold its next meeting Dec. 7, at 8pm. Everyone interested is welcome to come. Topics to be covered are the collegiate, and the next party.

By Joe Biebel

With encroaching finals the squeeze is on, but the brothers of Sigma Phi Delta continue to move right along!

Special thanks go to Cliff and wife, Sandy, for a fantastic Thanksgiving dinner. Everyone enjoyed it very much. In fact, one brother came as far away as Savannah (After eating Thanksgiving Dinner at the Sigma Phi Delta house last year, he knew he had to come back for another great dinner).

After giving time for their dinner to settle, three Sigma Phi Deltas went for a bicycle ride and found their way to the Fonce Inlet Light-house. Complaining of being saddle sore, the bike riders finally found their way home. So much for afternoon bike riding.

Well, that's about all for now. Have a happy last week of classes!

HEADLINES FOR THE NOODS?

By Page Edmunds

Over Thanksgiving the Packers traveled to southern GA. to start on their quest of the Suwanee River. Upon arriving at our destination at 3 am (Thurs.) we were greeted by another camping group who could not comprehend the fact that we wanted to set up camp at 3 in the morning. If you ever take a trip with the Packers, you'll soon realize time has no relevance. Tents were hastily pitched among the continuous grumblings of our new neighbors. If it had not been for the severe cold, I'm sure we would have sat around a warm campfire and chewed the fat.

Thursday morning came very early, and much to our surprise, the neighbors already had our breakfast ready and waiting. Being the good sports that we are, and forgetting the previous night's misunderstandings, we promptly ate their pancakes.

Once on the river, the Packers set a good pace for their 45 mile trek. Every organization has its share of goldbrickers and Mike Gearing is more than our share. If it had not been for "Check Point Charlie" Scott Corwin pulling Mike down the river, we would be minus one camper. "Thanks a bunch, Scott!"

The rest of the crew seemed to have no problems getting their partners to paddle. At the end of the day the Packers were miraculously still in tack except for three coolers, which ole Mike managed to manage. Thursday evening brought the typical Thanksgiving feast; cornish hens, potatoes, hot dogs, peanut butter and jelly, and Page's sneakers, which were "dried" beyond repair.

After a brief paddle on Friday morning, we went at the shoals (rapids, for all you northerners). After being warned by county commission, the canoe owner, and others about the shoals we proceeded to empty our canoes and run them. Out of the four Packer canoes that went through, there was only one casualty. P.R. and Freak almost got through when their canoe went over (typical S.C.s) Page and Scott were next and made it only because they paddled like a son-of-a-...! Amelia and Joe came through with Amelia in the stern. In the middle of the shoals we heard "OH by the way Joe, I've never done this before." Tom and Bob made like pros, and last but not least Mike and P.R. brought up the rear successfully, only to capsize in relatively still water. After a brief lunch we were back on the river where we hooked up, drifted and nipped on our liquid energizers. As the day wore on, the fog set in and our instrument got some real practical use. Camp was pitched in a light drizzle. After dinner the Packers dropped off one by one after the big day.

Saturday morning we awoke amidst a very wet campsite. Lacking firewood and being resourceful individuals, we fired up Joe's dual burner Coleman stove and ate a good, hot breakfast. Once on the Suwanee, Freak and P.R. set a blistering pace getting as far ahead as 14 miles of the last set of canoes, (Page, Scott, and Mike) who took it slow and enjoyed the increasingly foul weather. Around 5pm we finally caught up with the leaders under the old Route 129 bridge. Wet, cold, tired, the Packers sent for rescue which retrieved us in short order.

The trip ended as it began, late -- arriving back in Daytona around 2am Sunday. Despite the uncooperative weatherman, this trip was the highlight of the Packers fall season. A word of caution: steer clear of Mike on a canoe trip, besides demolishing 3 coolers, having a very weak paddle, he managed to fall out of his canoe not once, not twice, but three times, a Packer record.

The Packers would like to thank Mr. Tony Digiralamo for his most informative and interesting survival lecture, given last week.

The final meeting of the tri is this Monday, December 6th at 5pm in the Faculty/Staff lounge. All members are required to attend, for we are having elections. Cheers!

Vice President - John Allen
Treasurer - Tom Tubles
Vice Pres. Membership - Burt Pillows
Vice Pres. Benefits - Steve Nash

Thanks to the members who previously held these offices for the outstanding job they've done.

The Optimist Club is selling Christmas trees, and the AAAA volunteered their time to help. Stan Mason has the schedule sheet, so see him NOW and donate a few free hours to this worthwhile cause. Just think, where else can you sell Christmas trees and get a tan in the process?!

The Christmas dance is almost here (December 5) and if you haven't bought your ticket yet, you're either on the G.I. bill, or very elusive. Please see Norm this week, because we want everyone at the dance!

SCUBA NEWS

By Charlie Kidd

On Sunday, the 21st of November, the Scuba Club traveled to Stuart to dive the reefs offshore. Despite the gloomy looking day and the three hour drive to get there, the dive was excellent. The visibility was good and there were many exciting things to see.

The divers: Kim Hershberger, Steve Muncher, Robert Hunt, Paul Morrell, Jim Watt and Charlie Kidd made five dives on different reefs. Robert Hunt managed to spear 2 large fish and Jim Watt captured a good sized lobster. The highlight of the trip was when a couple of barracuda decided to come in for a close look and check us out!

This dive can be chalked up as a success. We all had a great time.

The next meeting will be Monday, December 6th. Hope to see you there. Another dive is being planned for the weekend of the 27th and 28th of November. If you are interested, contact any club member or drop a note in box #1053.

DELTA CHI

By Jimbo

Two weekends ago we had our annual Spirit Night for the trimester. With Pete and Hal leading the way by making the punch, things got under way. Slowly but surely everyone was coming under the spell of the evening.

The training films were quickly reviewed and approved by all. The brothers then brought on the entertainment for the night. I personally did not see much, for the punch got ahead of my eyesight quickly. But from what I heard it was quite different from past spirit nights.

Also that weekend occurred the University of Florida's 50th anniversary. With it also was Delta Chi's 50th anniversary at that school. About a dozen or so of us made the trek up to Gainesville for the big bash. The U Chi's up there couldn't have put on a better party. The chapter house was packed to its limit. The dance floor was covered with couples as the band picked it's way through many tunes. Larry Audelhalm, our Executive Director of National made an appearance, and a few of us got to corner him. What an experience.

Spent the night there and headed back the next morning. It 'was a good time for all.

At this point in the article I would like to extend a sincere thank-you to Mr. Greg Nellis and Mr. Hal Salisbury for working miracles with one of the bathrooms. Thank-you!

Thanksgiving proved to be a quiet weekend with some of the officers and alumni being invited to the "BB" house for some turkey. I hope all the brothers and sisters had a good Thanksgiving.

Nominations for the "A" and "B" spot respectively are: Jim Dykes; Dave Schreiber and Craig Florman.

This coming weekend proves to be a quickie! Friday night Chi Delphia is throwing the brothers a Christmas party, which is proving itself to be a good time. I believe things get under way at 9:00pm. Saturday is a private party for some C.F.T.'s at the house. Brothers are welcome. Finally, Sunday is our annual End of the Tri Banquet. Cocktails and such will be at the house starting at 6:00pm. Come 7:00, we shall all meet at the Holiday Inn across from the speedway for dinner and some awards to be handed out. Dress is coat and tie for brothers.

Delta Chi, #1 in spirit, rolls on!

SHIPMATES WANTED
FOR 'ROUND THE WORLD EXPEDITION

This February a small group of adventurers will embark on one of the greatest experiences of a lifetime. They will board YANKEE TRADER and set sail to strange ports of call around the world for ten months.

Share expense shipmates around the world. I invited to join in the voyage which will feature the informality traditional to Windjammer 'Barefoot' Cruises, the trip organizers. Not arranged by the local bridge club or jet set, this voyage will not visit 33 countries in 7 days, but leisurely cruise the exotic tropical ports such as Haiti, Galapagos, Easter Island, Tahiti, Fiji, Bali, Singapore, Kenya and Trinidad.

Shipsmates will explore, skin dive, go sightseeing, take photographs, or just loaf in a style known only to a few millionaires. They will actually be offered the chance to serve as crew, and to become proficient in the traditional skills of seamanship...or relax and leave the work to fully trained professional crew. There's no need for pretentious wardrobe, either, since the 'uniform of the day' will be casual, usually shorts.

YANKEE TRADER is a legend in her own time. Hundreds of scientists from the four corners of the world have shared her journeys into strange and varied explorations the world over when she was used for coastal and oceanographic research. Completely refurbished and air conditioned, she boasts of spacious quarters with private heads. YANKEE TRADER is one of the few motor-sailers afloat that is ideally suited for journeys of such magnitude.

To make it possible for YANKEE TRADER to sail 'round the world', it is necessary for the ship's company to share expenses. The cost to each shipsmate is $7350 for the 10-month voyage...about $24 per day. This includes expenses aboard ship, your own quarters and for aboard YANKEE TRADER. There will be a $750 discount available to professors and students.

In this age of luxury and self-indulgence in which plush hotels and ocean liners compete for travelers, there is still adventures who want to accomplish things for themselves, travel and explore in a leisurely and casual manner without though for hotel reservations, schedules or baggage limitations. These shipsmates are the ones wanted.

There are a lot of things happening this week but, first, we wish to thank Captain Tarrant from the ARRS branch at Patrick AFB, for his fine talk on ARRS's missions and past history. It was one of the most interesting briefings we've had this tri.

Now, get your pencil out and mark down these dates. First, on December 2, the final drill competition and inspection of the tri will be held to determine the honor flights for November. All flights have an equal chance and this week the results will also determine honor flights for the Fall 1976 trimester.

Next, the Dining-Out will be held on December third at the Sweden House in Ormond Beach starting at 7:30. Tickets are one dollar for cadets, and $6.00 for dates. For more information and directions, contact C/Capt. Nick Cornwell or one of his assistants.

The last day to remember is December 9th. This is the last corp training of the tri and it is around this year for the pass-in-review. Awards will be handed out and new positions will be announced. More details will be given out at the next corp training sessions.

We'd like to finish this week by saying a word about the Drill Team. If you have been following these articles, then you would have noticed that the Drill Team, to date, has won 75% of the honor flights for the tri this year. All cadets concerned have worked hard for this position and much credit can be given to Davis Sain for making such a good team almost from scratch. This article will not attempt to take sides in honor flight competition, but we think the Drill Team would like to have your support in the upcoming Christmas parade. It would be a topper to a nearly perfect year for the team and Det. 157-

"WEST" TEAM WINS ALL-STAR GAME

Saturday night at 8:00 pm in the Inland Municipal Stadium the East-West All-Star Game for 1976 brought the close to the Florida Intercollegiate Soccer Conference Season. An E-RAL player, Siavash Pourasari, scored the lone goal for the East Team made up of players from E-RAL, Stetson University and Florida Southern College. The West Team, including Martin Bremer who has won the conference Most Valuable Player for the last four years, was from Eckerd College, St. Leo College, and the University of Tampa. At the end of the game, won by the West 2 - 1, the MVP trophy for the game was presented to another E-RAL player, Mike Ani, principally for the outstanding "spoiling" job that he performed on bottling up Bremer.

At the banquet preceding the game the Commissioner, Dr. George Borders, announced that E-RAL had won the Runner-up trophy for the season -- the second consecutive year behind Eckerd College. Hopefully, without the fantastic play of Bremer, the conference title will be up for grabs in the 1977 season.

There will be an annual awards banquet in December where those varsity players who have participated in 75% of the quarters of all scheduled games will receive the varsity plaques for the 6-1 season. At that banquet the newly established soccer scholarship announcements will be forthcoming.

NOTE: Contrary to the misinformation promulgated by the Avion sports writer, the Miami game was not cancelled due to any sort of dispirit or injury roster, but had been cancelled by the Athletic Director in anticipation of a bid for NAIA Area V competition on the same date in the event of our win in the District 25 championship game held in Atlanta.

SOCIETY OF WOMEN ENGINEERS

The first of the evening sessions was devoted to the presentation of the 1976-77 program. The program was presented by the Society's president, who outlined the goals and objectives of the Society for the coming year. The program was well received by the audience, and the president expressed her confidence that the Society would have a very successful year.

The program was presented by the Society's president, who outlined the goals and objectives of the Society for the coming year. The program was well received by the audience, and the president expressed her confidence that the Society would have a very successful year.

After five minutes, the students were told to replace their masks. When they'd fully recovered, the other half of the class went through the same procedure. What would it be like if an aircraft window blew out at high altitude? Rapid decompression was the subject of the second "flight".

From ground level, class members were taken to 8,000 feet in one chamber while a connecting chamber's pressure was reduced to 22,000 feet. On a signal, a valve between the two depressurized rooms was opened, simulating an 11 second ascent to the higher altitude. Woosh! Suddenly, the unmasked students were enveloped in a cloud that materialized from thin air...literally. They wasted no time in getting on oxygen. The dramatic demonstration made for some lively discussion on the way down to normal pressure.

And the entire program experience was one that should leave some vivid and important recollections in the mind of every class member-- aviation novice and pro alike--for a long time to come.

The seminar was divided into two sessions. The first session was devoted to the presentation of the 1976-77 program. The program was presented by the Society's president, who outlined the goals and objectives of the Society for the coming year. The program was well received by the audience, and the president expressed her confidence that the Society would have a very successful year.

ETS ANNOUNCES CHANGES

PRINCETON, N.J. - Changes in registration procedures for the Minority Graduate Student Locator Service are expected to substantially increase, perhaps triple, the number of students in the program, according to Educational Testing Service (ETS).

At the same time another change, a price reduction to graduate schools, is expected to increase the number of schools participating in the program.

The Locator Service was developed by ETS five years ago for the Graduate Record Examinations Board to help minority students call themselves to the attention of graduate schools and to help graduate schools identify minority applicants. There is no cost to the students.

Since that time the program has, with students' permission, annually distributed information about the educational goals and backgrounds of over 9,000 students. ETS hopes to increase that figure by allowing students to register for the service on the same form used for the Graduate Record Examinations (GRE). A separate form used only for the Locator Service will continue to be available for students who do not take the GRE.

The Locator Service is primarily for members of racial and ethnic minorities in the United States. They include American Indians, blacks, Hispanics, Orientals, and other minority students who are second-term college juniors, seniors, or college graduates. Applicants need not be enrolled in college at the present time to take part in the program.

Student registration forms and instructions are inside the centerfold registration envelope in the 1976-77 Information Bulletin for the Graduate Record Examinations and Minority Graduate Student Locator Service. Copies may be obtained from most college undergraduate minority affairs office, the student affairs office involved with student concerns or graduate placement.

ETS hopes to have more graduate schools participating in the program as a result of a price reduction in the fee for schools. The fee, formerly $340, has been dropped to $200.
